

PATRONIZE HOME INDUSTRIES
EDMONTON GOODS MADE GOOD FOR EDMONTON PEOPLE

those engaged in the leeching business commendably, and who would keep abreast of the times, son and his brother.

[illegible]

men. They are reliable and confident and requires no relation regarding money have been over eight years. They worked up the growth of the company, which is controlled by the agency where some of the best men in the country are based. As real gentlemen, can be relied upon to appreciate the company through pleasing transactions.

PANY.

right to take care of this matter. The records for this company stand well. The company is practically all

...The
...The
...Com-
...Insur-
...s' Liab-
...ous other
...reinsur-
...y to any
...ough Mr.
...aving the
...Company,
...nce its in-
...ny of the
...en of the
...e insurance
...r. Ravey,
...ary for us
...ts of this
...belongs to says, a man of "Zanab" means we take a patron. "There that he has consequently been forged several by almost the same process, and I try to mark among the successful and untrifling ones they do, and they surpass of their extraordinary and understand-

P. Anderson

class of a greater taken in y of this twenty eminently member of organization
world-wide commend-ine at the ained law wild and today is paradise y private very high and good

... ..

EDMONTON MEAT MARKET
J. Hehsdoerfer, Proprietor

business omit the holders-

100

and most noted financiers Mr. Rupert Hill whose residence is the first house on Hull Street, and who is, a gentleman of very highly polished the Dominion with his horse and cattle Harris & Company, he led as Canada's King of Trade. Today he is equally as a distinguished member of the Gurley Metal Company, based in England, is the
in the world. That Mr.
Walbridge as a business man is a man of great

President; the reason is plain, as there is no over the counter of this kind, and the value of the stock is of the best quality. He believes it is more too good for his petrie, and he is not a frequent, fixture, and good, it is up-to-date to the minute, and is generally popular with the trade. He handles corn and salt meats, poultry, fish and other goods, and giving his customers the best of the market, more than held in his own store. He is a competitor. His prices are the lowest, and he is able to receive the hearty support of his community.

He is the "big" of the South. Mr. Holscher, once and a while, arranged slaughter house, and kills the best of the country.

articular
nts, and nothing top that d of the the best and he
His re-piment d he is with the st fresh d game ers just er he has t strong ght, and should e entire latter's usefulness to the industry he

There are but few of the country as ge

ork; Phoenix
fford; North-
; Connec-
; Dominion
npany, and ance Corpora-and making a

a expert er locks
he busi-ry best
t money s gentle-for the

1000

♦

H. WILSON.

Cash Grocery, 44 Queen's Near Jasper.

Mr. Wilson has built up a business in which he is justly proud, and his name and straightforward business have never been called into question. He has occupied his present location for some time, and the stock of groceries cannot be carried over his head. He is free to be pure and fresh in the market. Looking carefully after his customers and charging very reasonable prices, he is well thought of.

avenue, grade of his gold is medi-
question.
tion for ries and guaran-
on the his trade ices for his cus-

[illegible]

cannot be country affairs, the
the State Agencies, the
the strict business lines and they are anyone is

AGENCY.
Brokerage.

just class of thly of succe there are the
the nation
consequence, the literature cover. While the nation
of that kind of no less im shed through and capital-property of the percent time the percentage of the continent." "It is not too large for him to fill, as very large quantities, and has good supplies stock to draw from."

There is probably no man of the House of Representatives small buys in before a

at all plem-

and their daily capacity for turning

The firm of Metcalf, well and favorably known of the West, as a firm, is noted by its work, as their patrons fairly at their command cannot ant or energetic business man of Edmonton than is Mr. Wilson, a firm believer in the city's bright future and is doing all in his power in co-operation with other patriotic merchants to bring to Edmonton the splendid future it has always enjoyed as a safe and thriving center.

He is future junction maintation mercial

1

personally conducts a fair trial and be com-

CONFIDENTIALITY STATEMENT

EDMONTON THE LAST OF THE GREAT WEST

R. PERCY BARNES.

Architect.

Edmonton can rightfully claim more than its fair share of beautiful buildings, and well-built, handsome residences, there, the architects of the city may well congratulate themselves for their creation is due to them. Mr. Percy Barnes has drawn plans for many of our most beautiful and handsome structures, all of which are indeed monuments to his skill, taste and ability. He has been practicing his profession in this city for some time, and is among the ablest men in Edmonton engaged in this, the greatest and most ennobling of the arts. Mr. Barnes brings to bear in his work a natural bent for architectural designing, and he is very careful as to the accuracy of his estimates upon buildings of any size. Though he has an excellent theoretical knowledge of his profession, he has received a thorough practical training. It should be said too, he is exceptionally handsome, very exact in all his work, and he is a gentleman whose entire record shows that he is worthy of implicit confidence.

Interior View of the Imperial Bank. P. Barnes, Architect

Exterior View of Imperial Bank. P. Barnes, Architect

Imperial Shoe Store

The Imperial Shoe Store

Corner Jasper and 2nd Street.

This store for exclusive shoes is claimed to be the best in the west, both as to its present proportions. This store is commodious and attractive. Carry-overs a strictly cash business, thereby giving a well-assorted stock of the best being able to sell at a close margin of known makes and reliable goods only, profit, the proprietors, Messrs. Thon and Webb.

St. Albert, one of the Brightest Stars in the Crown of Alberta's Commercial St. Albert is Growing—Business is Good—Most Picturesque and Beautiful Garden Spot in all Northern Alberta.

Fine Town situated in centre of rich Farming District with Wonderful Possibilities of a Bright and Prosperous Future.

Nearly every city of any pretensions claims with considerable pride to be a centre of some industry or trade, and it is held on as an inducement to pleasure seekers, and those desiring scenic residential quarters beyond the limits of the various commercial centres. While from morning till night there is much to be seen in the industrial activity, the beauty of the Canadian West is more favoured in this respect than in Edmonton, for St. Albert is a picturesque and growing town with a population of more than 1,000 souls, situated within nine short miles of her limits. Drove looking the beautiful Sturgeon River where streams gurgle and foliage shimmer, and being located within easy walking distance of Big Lake, where floating, fishing, bathing and hunting serves as a most delightful pastime for lovers of innocent amusement during the Summer and Fall seasons. It is a fact, conveyed by all who have visited the district that as a residential town St. Albert to Edmonton is today, and will be for years to come, what Victoria is to Vancouver, while it should also be said that as a summer resort of growing popularity St. Albert is second only to that world renowned and health-giving resort "Baden" in merit as health centres are enjoyed by the rich and poor alike, and a watering place that has perhaps more than twice as many attractions as the world to western Canada, and especially Alberta, than can be said of any of the many other natural garden spots East or West of the Rockies. Notwithstanding the pleasing character of the theme, it is not the purpose of this Bulletin on the occasion to dwell at any considerable length on St. Albert, other than as a residential town or summer resort, for as these points, because of local natural beauty, are made no further advertising, but rather to briefly call the attention of outsiders to the town's various municipal, manufacturing industries, and above all the splendid and promising farming country with which St. Albert is surrounded on all sides.

Although one of the oldest, if not the oldest settlement in the province, the town of St. Albert was incorporated only four years ago, and while as a town the population is as yet comparatively small, it should also be said that no district has more desirable class of farmers than this one in the province, of which St. Albert is the natural supply centre. As in all other sections of the west, farm lands in this region are steadily increasing in value, though it is a recognized fact that wild and unimproved farms are not so readily sold, taking into consideration the wonderful development of the ideal climate, splendid water and every other comfort and convenience for the mind of man could wish, no town can equal, much less surpass, the one in question. While town property is in great demand, and new buildings for business and residential purposes are being erected almost every day, these locations are being disposed of at most reasonable prices, and as there is ample room on the present town site to accommodate many thousands, there need be no anxiety the part of anyone not being able to secure a desirable stand, though of course a word to the wise is sufficient, and there is no time like the present to obtain a foothold for the minimum of cash.

A WELL-GOVERNED TOWN.

With Mayor F. Peters as the chief executive, the best interests of the town are expertly looked after and promoted by a council of seven members whose names are as follows: F. Peters, Mayor; L. Bonington, John Chace, Chas. Bellamy, Jake Manthorpe, Geo. Desbriere, L. Leveson and Felix Page, Secretary-Treasurer. It is hardly necessary to say that each and all of these gentlemen are men of understanding and proven business ability. They are all interested in the town and country property, and they belong to the class of wide-awake leaders who would make their presence felt in any community. Second only in importance to the above mentioned body is a well-organized Board of Trade, for which a devious word of praise should be given, because the judicious and considerate manner they have adopted for the purpose of making St. Albert and vicinity one of the best and most widely advertised districts in the west. The board officers are made up of K. W. Anderson, President; D. Maloney, vice-president; and M. Hogan, secretary-treasurer. Under the personal supervision of the latter named gentleman, the business affairs of the organization are expertly managed, and outside desires of further information would do well to communicate with Mr. Maloney who will be pleased to put all inquiries on the right track.

RESIDENTIAL AND PROFESSIONAL REPRESENTATIVES.

To outsiders unacquainted in St. Albert, the first thing that strikes the eye of the town, when it is first seen, is the number of the various business, professional and residential buildings enumerated in the foregoing table. The first three general stores appearing on the list are conducted by Messrs. J. Peters, J. B. Rogers and Messrs. J. Desbriere, A. Connelly and J. C. Rogers. The latter named gentleman has been a resident in the town for practically all his life, and as far as the business world is concerned there are no other the establishments on the business north of higher communication. Doctors Linton, Curfiss, and Terman belong to that class of doctors who are prominent and are a pronounced success in their calling. Messrs. L. Bonington and St. Albert hotelier, are gentlemen in whom the hotelier class recognizes more than ordinary commercial ability and judgment. The business of the Flour Mill Grain Elevator and Brick Yard being the property of the St. Albert Hotelier, Linton and Curfiss, the dominant industries of the town deserve

to be closed in very brief paragraphs in the progress and development of the district. A fitting feature is done of each of these points, and to Mr. F. L. O'Connell, who is heavily interested in the district, and in the various branches of the country affairs, no little praise is due for the foresight and sound business judgment shown by him in choosing St. Albert as a town in which to locate, the "able property" of which has fair to be said to be the present volume of the well-known owners of Frost & Wood, and Messrs. Hargrave Companies, and both these concerns are well represented by Messrs. J. Chace and M. Hogan, respectively. The blacksmith shop and carriage works of the town are operated by Messrs. J. Leonard, J. M. Tishman and Bellamy, while the bric-a-brac and second-hand goods are handled by Messrs. L. Leveson and J. C. Rogers. The latter named gentleman has been in business in St. Albert for a comparatively long time, and has been very successful in the trade in just the right way, it is only fair to say, his business has been kept abreast of the times his lively is said to be the best in St. Albert, just among the best and most up-to-date in the province. The Bank of Hamilton maintains a splendidly fitted up branch in St. Albert, which is under the management of Mr. J. Anderson. The butcher shop, bar, and hardware, drug, bakery and stationery stores have as their proprietors, Messrs. Bonington & Bellamy, D. Bonington, A. L. Vigne, G. Armstrong and J. O'Connell respectively, all of whom were the waste of commerce promptly and profitably. A pioneer well and favorably known in and around St. Albert, and an individual whose life has been a kind, sympathetic and strict observance of duty, to Mr. J. C. Rogers, who has been in the town for nearly eight years, looked carefully, and without the slightest discord after the reputation and distribution of the Hotelier's range. For long and short of the district, the business interests of the country passing word of reputation class of Messrs. J. C. Rogers, Miss Hestinger, David (Henry) and St. Albert, three of St. Albert's oldest and most reliable business men. Although retired from active business these gentlemen are still active in the town, and as far as the business world is concerned there are no other the establishments on the business north of higher communication. Doctors Linton, Curfiss, and Terman belong to that class of doctors who are prominent and are a pronounced success in their calling. Messrs. L. Bonington and St. Albert hotelier, are gentlemen in whom the hotelier class recognizes more than ordinary commercial ability and judgment. The business of the Flour Mill Grain Elevator and Brick Yard being the property of the St. Albert Hotelier, Linton and Curfiss, the dominant industries of the town deserve

to be closed in very brief paragraphs in the progress and development of the district. A fitting feature is done of each of these points, and to Mr. F. L. O'Connell, who is heavily interested in the district, and in the various branches of the country affairs, no little praise is due for the foresight and sound business judgment shown by him in choosing St. Albert as a town in which to locate, the "able property" of which has fair to be said to be the present volume of the well-known owners of Frost & Wood, and Messrs. Hargrave Companies, and both these concerns are well represented by Messrs. J. Chace and M. Hogan, respectively. The blacksmith shop and carriage works of the town are operated by Messrs. J. Leonard, J. M. Tishman and Bellamy, while the bric-a-brac and second-hand goods are handled by Messrs. L. Leveson and J. C. Rogers. The latter named gentleman has been in business in St. Albert for a comparatively long time, and has been very successful in the trade in just the right way, it is only fair to say, his business has been kept abreast of the times his lively is said to be the best in St. Albert, just among the best and most up-to-date in the province. The Bank of Hamilton maintains a splendidly fitted up branch in St. Albert, which is under the management of Mr. J. Anderson. The butcher shop, bar, and hardware, drug, bakery and stationery stores have as their proprietors, Messrs. Bonington & Bellamy, D. Bonington, A. L. Vigne, G. Armstrong and J. O'Connell respectively, all of whom were the waste of commerce promptly and profitably. A pioneer well and favorably known in and around St. Albert, and an individual whose life has been a kind, sympathetic and strict observance of duty, to Mr. J. C. Rogers, who has been in the town for nearly eight years, looked carefully, and without the slightest discord after the reputation and distribution of the Hotelier's range. For long and short of the district, the business interests of the country passing word of reputation class of Messrs. J. C. Rogers, Miss Hestinger, David (Henry) and St. Albert, three of St. Albert's oldest and most reliable business men. Although retired from active business these gentlemen are still active in the town, and as far as the business world is concerned there are no other the establishments on the business north of higher communication. Doctors Linton, Curfiss, and Terman belong to that class of doctors who are prominent and are a pronounced success in their calling. Messrs. L. Bonington and St. Albert hotelier, are gentlemen in whom the hotelier class recognizes more than ordinary commercial ability and judgment. The business of the Flour Mill Grain Elevator and Brick Yard being the property of the St. Albert Hotelier, Linton and Curfiss, the dominant industries of the town deserve

to be closed in very brief paragraphs in the progress and development of the district. A fitting feature is done of each of these points, and to Mr. F. L. O'Connell, who is heavily interested in the district, and in the various branches of the country affairs, no little praise is due for the foresight and sound business judgment shown by him in choosing St. Albert as a town in which to locate, the "able property" of which has fair to be said to be the present volume of the well-known owners of Frost & Wood, and Messrs. Hargrave Companies, and both these concerns are well represented by Messrs. J. Chace and M. Hogan, respectively. The blacksmith shop and carriage works of the town are operated by Messrs. J. Leonard, J. M. Tishman and Bellamy, while the bric-a-brac and second-hand goods are handled by Messrs. L. Leveson and J. C. Rogers. The latter named gentleman has been in business in St. Albert for a comparatively long time, and has been very successful in the trade in just the right way, it is only fair to say, his business has been kept abreast of the times his lively is said to be the best in St. Albert, just among the best and most up-to-date in the province. The Bank of Hamilton maintains a splendidly fitted up branch in St. Albert, which is under the management of Mr. J. Anderson. The butcher shop, bar, and hardware, drug, bakery and stationery stores have as their proprietors, Messrs. Bonington & Bellamy, D. Bonington, A. L. Vigne, G. Armstrong and J. O'Connell respectively, all of whom were the waste of commerce promptly and profitably. A pioneer well and favorably known in and around St. Albert, and an individual whose life has been a kind, sympathetic and strict observance of duty, to Mr. J. C. Rogers, who has been in the town for nearly eight years, looked carefully, and without the slightest discord after the reputation and distribution of the Hotelier's range. For long and short of the district, the business interests of the country passing word of reputation class of Messrs. J. C. Rogers, Miss Hestinger, David (Henry) and St. Albert, three of St. Albert's oldest and most reliable business men. Although retired from active business these gentlemen are still active in the town, and as far as the business world is concerned there are no other the establishments on the business north of higher communication. Doctors Linton, Curfiss, and Terman belong to that class of doctors who are prominent and are a pronounced success in their calling. Messrs. L. Bonington and St. Albert hotelier, are gentlemen in whom the hotelier class recognizes more than ordinary commercial ability and judgment. The business of the Flour Mill Grain Elevator and Brick Yard being the property of the St. Albert Hotelier, Linton and Curfiss, the dominant industries of the town deserve

to be closed in very brief paragraphs in the progress and development of the district. A fitting feature is done of each of these points, and to Mr. F. L. O'Connell, who is heavily interested in the district, and in the various branches of the country affairs, no little praise is due for the foresight and sound business judgment shown by him in choosing St. Albert as a town in which to locate, the "able property" of which has fair to be said to be the present volume of the well-known owners of Frost & Wood, and Messrs. Hargrave Companies, and both these concerns are well represented by Messrs. J. Chace and M. Hogan, respectively. The blacksmith shop and carriage works of the town are operated by Messrs. J. Leonard, J. M. Tishman and Bellamy, while the bric-a-brac and second-hand goods are handled by Messrs. L. Leveson and J. C. Rogers. The latter named gentleman has been in business in St. Albert for a comparatively long time, and has been very successful in the trade in just the right way, it is only fair to say, his business has been kept abreast of the times his lively is said to be the best in St. Albert, just among the best and most up-to-date in the province. The Bank of Hamilton maintains a splendidly fitted up branch in St. Albert, which is under the management of Mr. J. Anderson. The butcher shop, bar, and hardware, drug, bakery and stationery stores have as their proprietors, Messrs. Bonington & Bellamy, D. Bonington, A. L. Vigne, G. Armstrong and J. O'Connell respectively, all of whom were the waste of commerce promptly and profitably. A pioneer well and favorably known in and around St. Albert, and an individual whose life has been a kind, sympathetic and strict observance of duty, to Mr. J. C. Rogers, who has been in the town for nearly eight years, looked carefully, and without the slightest discord after the reputation and distribution of the Hotelier's range. For long and short of the district, the business interests of the country passing word of reputation class of Messrs. J. C. Rogers, Miss Hestinger, David (Henry) and St. Albert, three of St. Albert's oldest and most reliable business men. Although retired from active business these gentlemen are still active in the town, and as far as the business world is concerned there are no other the establishments on the business north of higher communication. Doctors Linton, Curfiss, and Terman belong to that class of doctors who are prominent and are a pronounced success in their calling. Messrs. L. Bonington and St. Albert hotelier, are gentlemen in whom the hotelier class recognizes more than ordinary commercial ability and judgment. The business of the Flour Mill Grain Elevator and Brick Yard being the property of the St. Albert Hotelier, Linton and Curfiss, the dominant industries of the town deserve

to be closed in very brief paragraphs in the progress and development of the district. A fitting feature is done of each of these points, and to Mr. F. L. O'Connell, who is heavily interested in the district, and in the various branches of the country affairs, no little praise is due for the foresight and sound business judgment shown by him in choosing St. Albert as a town in which to locate, the "able property" of which has fair to be said to be the present volume of the well-known owners of Frost & Wood, and Messrs. Hargrave Companies, and both these concerns are well represented by Messrs. J. Chace and M. Hogan, respectively. The blacksmith shop and carriage works of the town are operated by Messrs. J. Leonard, J. M. Tishman and Bellamy, while the bric-a-brac and second-hand goods are handled by Messrs. L. Leveson and J. C. Rogers. The latter named gentleman has been in business in St. Albert for a comparatively long time, and has been very successful in the trade in just the right way, it is only fair to say, his business has been kept abreast of the times his lively is said to be the best in St. Albert, just among the best and most up-to-date in the province. The Bank of Hamilton maintains a splendidly fitted up branch in St. Albert, which is under the management of Mr. J. Anderson. The butcher shop, bar, and hardware, drug, bakery and stationery stores have as their proprietors, Messrs. Bonington & Bellamy, D. Bonington, A. L. Vigne, G. Armstrong and J. O'Connell respectively, all of whom were the waste of commerce promptly and profitably. A pioneer well and favorably known in and around St. Albert, and an individual whose life has been a kind, sympathetic and strict observance of duty, to Mr. J. C. Rogers, who has been in the town for nearly eight years, looked carefully, and without the slightest discord after the reputation and distribution of the Hotelier's range. For long and short of the district, the business interests of the country passing word of reputation class of Messrs. J. C. Rogers, Miss Hestinger, David (Henry) and St. Albert, three of St. Albert's oldest and most reliable business men. Although retired from active business these gentlemen are still active in the town, and as far as the business world is concerned there are no other the establishments on the business north of higher communication. Doctors Linton, Curfiss, and Terman belong to that class of doctors who are prominent and are a pronounced success in their calling. Messrs. L. Bonington and St. Albert hotelier, are gentlemen in whom the hotelier class recognizes more than ordinary commercial ability and judgment. The business of the Flour Mill Grain Elevator and Brick Yard being the property of the St. Albert Hotelier, Linton and Curfiss, the dominant industries of the town deserve

to be closed in very brief paragraphs in the progress and development of the district. A fitting feature is done of each of these points, and to Mr. F. L. O'Connell, who is heavily interested in the district, and in the various branches of the country affairs, no little praise is due for the foresight and sound business judgment shown by him in choosing St. Albert as a town in which to locate, the "able property" of which has fair to be said to be the present volume of the well-known owners of Frost & Wood, and Messrs. Hargrave Companies, and both these concerns are well represented by Messrs. J. Chace and M. Hogan, respectively. The blacksmith shop and carriage works of the town are operated by Messrs. J. Leonard, J. M. Tishman and Bellamy, while the bric-a-brac and second-hand goods are handled by Messrs. L. Leveson and J. C. Rogers. The latter named gentleman has been in business in St. Albert for a comparatively long time, and has been very successful in the trade in just the right way, it is only fair to say, his business has been kept abreast of the times his lively is said to be the best in St. Albert, just among the best and most up-to-date in the province. The Bank of Hamilton maintains a splendidly fitted up branch in St. Albert, which is under the management of Mr. J. Anderson. The butcher shop, bar, and hardware, drug, bakery and stationery stores have as their proprietors, Messrs. Bonington & Bellamy, D. Bonington, A. L. Vigne, G. Armstrong and J. O'Connell respectively, all of whom were the waste of commerce promptly and profitably. A pioneer well and favorably known in and around St. Albert, and an individual whose life has been a kind, sympathetic and strict observance of duty, to Mr. J. C. Rogers, who has been in the town for nearly eight years, looked carefully, and without the slightest discord after the reputation and distribution of the Hotelier's range. For long and short of the district, the business interests of the country passing word of reputation class of Messrs. J. C. Rogers, Miss Hestinger, David (Henry) and St. Albert, three of St. Albert's oldest and most reliable business men. Although retired from active business these gentlemen are still active in the town, and as far as the business world is concerned there are no other the establishments on the business north of higher communication. Doctors Linton, Curfiss, and Terman belong to that class of doctors who are prominent and are a pronounced success in their calling. Messrs. L. Bonington and St. Albert hotelier, are gentlemen in whom the hotelier class recognizes more than ordinary commercial ability and judgment. The business of the Flour Mill Grain Elevator and Brick Yard being the property of the St. Albert Hotelier, Linton and Curfiss, the dominant industries of the town deserve